

RiverPatrons

You are invited to become a champion for clean, sustainable and resilient rivers and waterways. Join an exclusive network of RiverPatrons and help to preserve our most important resources for generations to come.

As we move into an uncertain future for our environment, it has never been more important to prioritise the health of our planet and its resources.

- » Half the world's population will be in water stressed areas, according to The World Health Organisation.
- » It is estimated that at least 80% of plastic debris found in the ocean is transported by rivers.
- » A UN report says 80% of rivers in the Asia Pacific are polluted and linked to 1.8 million deaths a year

Improper management of our world's rivers and waterways poses devastating effects on wildlife, ecosystems and communities. It is our mission at the International RiverFoundation to champion the health and resilience of rivers and waterways around the world, using our 1000+ Resilient Rivers Blueprint.

We need your help to roll out our 1000+ Resilient Rivers Blueprint on a global scale. RiverPatrons are essential for enabling the International RiverFoundation to conduct campaigns on rivers for future generations
